

EVERCONVERT

"In my eight years running a PI firm, I haven't found anyone better than EverConvert, and I've wasted a lot of money in the process of locating the right SEO company."

EverConvert really, personally cares about making sure that you succeed and will make it happen."

EVERCONVERT CASE STUDY

BACKGROUND

Dmitriy Panchenko, founder and lead attorney at Panchenko Law Firm, built a successful career in real estate law. However, Dmitriy felt a strong personal calling to make a more meaningful impact on individuals who had suffered personal injuries. This desire led him to transition into personal injury law and establish a practice focused on advocating for those in need of justice and compensation for their injuries.

THE CHALLENGE

Breaking away from an established firm is never easy, especially to open a personal injury law firm. The risk is high and it is very competitive. Not only had Dmitriy spent thousands with marketing agencies, he was really at a point where his personal injury practice had to perform.

SUCCESS in Personal Injury

Dmitriy hired a growth partner in EverConvert. He was no longer working with an agency that brought the unknown. Dmitriy hired a solution that delivers solid cases and exceeds expectations.
